Theme: Africa in BRICS: Youth Partnerships for an Inclusive, Innovative and Sustainable Future

Date: 28 November 2026

Time: 12:00 - 15:00 CAT (GMT+2)

Format: Online

Discussion topics:

Youth Entrepreneurship, Trade and Economic Opportunities

- This theme will examine how young people can benefit from and contribute to expanding economic relations between Africa and BRICS countries. Discussions may focus on youth entrepreneurship, SMEs, market access, digital business, access to finance, intra-BRICS and Africa-BRICS trade, investment opportunities and the role of young entrepreneurs in strengthening Global South economic cooperation. The session should also highlight practical opportunities available to young entrepreneurs and explore how youth-led businesses can participate more meaningfully in emerging African and BRICS value chains.

Innovation, Digital Transformation, Education and the Future of Work

- This theme will focus on the rapidly changing technological and skills environment and the opportunities it presents for African youth. Discussions may cover artificial intelligence, digital transformation, innovation ecosystems, FinTech, emerging technologies, digital skills, research collaboration, scholarships, academic exchanges and future-of-work competencies. The theme will also explore how stronger cooperation between African and BRICS universities, research institutions, innovation hubs and youth organisations can improve access to knowledge, skills and technology.

Youth Diplomacy, Sustainable Development and People-to-People Cooperation

- This theme will focus on the role of young people in strengthening international cooperation and addressing shared development challenges. Discussions may include youth diplomacy, climate action, sustainable development, volunteering, cultural exchange, civil society cooperation, youth leadership and participation in international platforms. The session will also examine how stronger people-to-people relations can support long-term cooperation between Africa and BRICS countries and create opportunities for meaningful youth participation.
